JOB SUMMARY

The Strawberry Hill Trust was formed in 2002 to restore Strawberry Hill House & Garden and open it to a wider public. Originally created between 1747 and 1790 by Horace Walpole as ‘his little gothic castle’, this building is internationally famous as one of the first and most influential examples of the gothic revival in domestic architecture. With generous support from the Heritage Lottery Fund, The World Monuments Fund, English Heritage, the local community and several Trusts and Foundations £10 million was raised and the majority of the restoration was accomplished. The house was re-opened to the public in October 2010 and in 2011 won the Georgian Group Award for the best restoration of an 18th century Country House and the Europa Nostra Grand Prix Award for conservation in 2013. The full restoration, including the smaller rooms, was finally completed in Spring 2015.

In 1842 the contents of Walpole’s home were dispersed all over the world in a famous 24-day ‘sale of the century’. The recent highly acclaimed Lost Treasures of Strawberry Hill, Masterpieces from Horace Walpole’s Collection exhibition re-united Walpole’s villa and its contents for the first time in 170 years - providing a ‘once in a lifetime’ opportunity to experience the House as Walpole intended it to be seen.

For the exhibition, Strawberry Hill House researched, found and displayed around 150 ‘lost’ objects from important national collections including The National Portrait Gallery, the V&A, Ashmolean Museum, Dulwich Picture Gallery and The National Gallery, as well as those of a number of private collectors. It was produced in association with the Lewis Walpole Library at Yale University and with support from major sponsor J. Stern & Co, a number of corporate sponsors, individual donors and Trusts & Foundations.

Strawberry Hill House & Garden is currently seeking a Head of Development (Maternity Cover) to execute the Fundraising Strategy 2019-2024.
